will, in my opinion, be a waste of public money. If eligible lady students of Mysore come forward to take up a Degree course in Medicine, they may easily be sent to the Colleges at Madras or Bombay for five years instead of sending them to Delhi for seven years. Both the distance and the period in the latter case are prohibitive to induce parents to allow their girls to go.

From

Kunwar Maharaj Singh, C.I.E.,

Honorary Secretary to the Governing Body of the Lady Hardinge Medical College for Women. Delhi.

To

The Chief Secretary to the Govt. of H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore.

Sir,

On behalf of the Governing Body of the Lady Hardinge Medical College for Women, Delhi, I have the honour to approach the Government of H. H. the Maharaja of Mysore for an annual recurring grant to the College commencing from the 1st April 1922.

2. The Lady Hardinge Medical College is the only medical college in India for women affiliated to a University and supplies a most urgent and important need. It was opened in 1916 as a memorial to the late Lady Hardinge in token of her interest in the women of India. Its construction and equipment have already cost about 16 lakhs. From this sum, which has been obtained entirely through the generosity of private donors and in particular of Indian Princes, have been provided the College proper and its attached hospital, residences for the staff, hostel accommodation for 100 students separately arranged for Hindus, Muslims, Sikhs and Indian Christians and also a hostel for pupil nurses. At present the number of students and nurses, the great majority of whom are Indians, is 85 and 31 respectively. Additional buildings, however, are under construction at an estimated cost of Rs.14 lakhs. The Governing Body, the President of which is the Director-General, Indian Medical Service, have at their disposal a sum of approximately 9 lakhs, which also was secured from private sources, and it is proposed, with the approval of Her Excellency the Countess of Reading, who is Patron of the College, to appeal to the public for the remaining 5 lakhs. When these are completed (it is hoped by September 30th 1922) the institution will provide training for 100 students and 75 nurses and compounders.

3. Besides the five years' course for the M.B.B.S. Degree the College has to undertake the preliminary course of two years for the Intermediate Science Examination of the Punjab University, as there is no women's science college where this can be taken. This adds to the expenses of the institution, as a qualified staff for the teaching of science and well equipped laboratories have to be maintained in addition to the requirements of a purely medical college. At present the staff has to be recruited almost entirely from England, as the number of Indian ladies capable of taking charge of either the science or medical departments is still very limited. Every effort however is being made and will continue to be made to secure suitable Indian ladies as professors and lecturers. As the course of instruction in science and medicine lasts for seven years and it is less than six years since the College was opened, there has not yet been time for any medical graduates to pass out. The work of the students is progressing favourably as judged by recent university results. In May 1921 17 students appeared at Lahore for the first examination in science. Of these 11 passed, 5 have to appear again in one subject and 1 failed. 13 appeared for the First M.B.B.S. Examination; 12 passed (2 taking the highest places) while the 1 remaining candidate, after failing in one subject, reappeared for it in October and was successful. For the Second M

Examination 10 students appeared; 9 passed and will sit for their Final M.B.B.S. Examination in May 1923. Thereafter the College will turn out annually a number of highly qualified medical women.

4. While the capital cost of the college buildings together with the proposed additions have been and will, it is hoped, be contributed wholly from private sources, the maintenance charges of the institution have been very largely met hitherto by the Government of India, who have contributed the following sums:-

1916-17.....Rs.1,00,000.

1917-18.....Rs.1,25,000.

1918-19.....Rs.1,50,000.

1919-20.....Rs.1,75,000.

1920-21.....Rs.2,00,000.

1921-22.....Rs.2,00,000.

For 1921-22 the estimated income of the College, including the grant from the Government of India, amounts to Rs. 2,47,080. In spite of the generous assistance received from the Government of India, who have, it will be seen, doubled their annual grant since 1916, it is not found possible to maintain the institution with the additions under construction without a substantial increase in the maintenance grant. Indeed, the estimated deficit amounts to Rs.1,50,000 per annum commencing from the next financial year (1922-23). The reasons for the deficit and the consequent necessity for a substantial increase in the maintenance grant are mainly the following:-

(a) The value of materials has considerably increased since the establishment of the institution in 1916 owing to the great all-round rise in prices.

(b) An increase in the salaries of the staff is required. The salaries of most services have been revised in the last two or three years.

(c) It has been decided, as stated in paragraph 2 above, to erect a large block of buildings in addition to the exist-

(a) and (b) require no further explanation.

As regards (c), the present hospital provides 100 beds. From September 1922, this will not furnish adequate clinical material for the students in order to satisfy the regulations of the Punjab University. A large new block is accordingly being built to contain an additional 100 beds and it is for the staffing and upkeep of this and of the additional block of the nurses hostel and for the provision of instruction in the subjects of the first year of the medical course that the greater part of the extra income is required.

5. The Governing Body have made every effort to ensure economy in working and to raise the income from all legitimate sources. Since last year fees have been charged to patients able to afford them, no less than Rs.7,246 having been obtained from this source during the 12 months ending on September 30th 1921. This policy will be continued as far as can be done without discouraging admission. since more patients and a greater variety of illnesses will be required to satisfy the requirements of the Punjab University and to provide adequate clinical material for the students. From the session of 1922-23 it is also proposed to raise the fees of students from Rs.125 to Rs.200 per annum.

6. The Government of India have expressed their inability to increase their annual contribution of Rs.2,00,000 per annum. Their decision is due not only to the financial stringency but even more to the fact that medical education is now a provincial and transferred subject, that the present students come from the different provinces in India and Indian States, and that the products of the College, whether medical graduates or qualified nurses, will work largely in and for the benefit of the various provinces and Indian States and provincial State and local institutions. The Governing Body are of opinion that there is considerable force in the views of the Government of India and have decided to appeal to provincial Governments and Indian States for the extra Rs.1.50.000 per annum required. Like the Government of India, they feel that an institution such as the Lady Hardinge Medical College has been constructed and is being maintained mostly for the benefit of the various provinces and States of India.

There is no doubt that the existence of a central medical institution like the Lady Hardinge Medical College relieves local Governments of considerable expenditure on university medical education for women which would have to be incurred by them if medical colleges for women were provincial institutions. The fact that local Governments have hitherto not contributed either towards the large capital cost of the College or towards the heavy maintenance charges lends additional force to the appeal of the Governing Body. Hitherto the only recurring grants in addition to the contribution of Rs.2,00,000 from the Government of India have been:-

(a) Rs.3,500 from the Kashmir Durbar.

(b) Rs.1,200 from the Pudukote Durbar.

7. In determining the amount to be asked for from each provincial Government or Indian State the Governing Body of the College consider that a fair basis for apportionment is afforded by proposing in each case a sum proportionate to the number of medical students at present studying in the College. As already stated, the estimated deficit from the next financial year will be Rs.1,50,000. The present number of students is 85; so that the deficit works out at Rs.1.765 per student. As the present number of students in the College coming from Mysore is 2 the amount asked for from The Govt. of H.H. the Maharaja of Mysore is Rs. 3,530 or, for rounding, say, Rs. 4,000.

(15-

It will be noted that it is the amount of the deficit on each student and not the actual cost per student that is asked for. The latter would be very greatly in excess of the amount mentioned above. It is earnestly hoped that the Government of H H. the Maharaja of Mysore will be able to give an annual grant of at least Rs. 4,000 per annum from the 1st April 1922 in addition to ~~Government or~~ State scholarships, if any, already given. Should the sum asked for be given, the Governing Body undertake to make provision in the future for at least the present number of students from Mysore.

Should, however, the amount asked for be not forthcoming, no guarantee could be given to the Provinces or States concerned regarding the admission of its students. In fact, a grave situation will arise and the Governing Body will have seriously to consider the alternative of either greatly restricting the activities of the College or of closing it altogether. Either alternative, however, would be fatal to the cause of university medical education for women in India. The Governing Body confidently hope that the response from local Governments and Indian States will be such as to prevent the possibility of such an occurrence.

8. I have the honour to request the favour of a reply by the 31st January 1922 at latest.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

Honorary Secretary
to the Governing Body of the Lady Hardinge
Medical College for Women, Delhi.

FROM

MAJOR C. T. C. PLOWDEN, I. A.,
SECRETARY TO THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER OF COORG.

To

The Chief Secretary to the Government of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore.

Subject:- Application from the Governing Body of the Lady Hardinge Medical College for Women, Delhi, for an annual contribution to the College from each provincial Government and Indian State.

Dated Bangalore, the 3rd July 1922

SIR,

I am directed to forward, for the information of the Durbar, a copy of a letter dated the 17th December 1921, from the Honorary Secretary to the Governing Body of the Lady Hardinge Medical College for Women, Delhi, on the above subject.

2. As will be seen from the letter referred to an annual grant of Rs.1,765/- or Rs.2000/- in round figures, has been asked for from the Administration of Coorg on account of a student from the province who is studying at the College. The student in question appears to be Miss Konganda Appayya who, it is understood, was given a scholarship by Mr. Cobb and joined the College in September 1919. It is believed that she has entered into an agreement with the Durbar to enter their service on passing out of the College and also that the Durbar are giving her financial assistance to - prosecute

prosecute her studies at the College. In view of the request put forward by the Governing Body of the College for a contribution from this Administration on account of this student the Chief Commissioner would be glad if the Durbar would inform him what the position is as regards this student. If the position is as stated above, the Chief Commissioner considers that a contribution on her account from the Coorg revenues would be an unfair charge on the province and he would be glad to know whether the Durbar would be prepared to make the contribution asked for. Miss K. Appayya is not in receipt of a scholarship from this Administration.

3. The favour of an early reply in the matter is requested.

I have the honour to be

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Secretary to the Chief Commissioner.
